

Ontario Cup mountain biking

Kingston hosted the Ontario Cup Mountain Bike Series on Sunday. The rain-soaked, muddy course made for a challenging day for the racers.

Brendan Laughlin and Kim Haagmans-Hawke crest the top of the final climb.

Kingston's Evan McNeely rides over a series of berms on the first lap.

Lisa Williams falls in a muddy section of trail.

Soren Meeuwisse splashes through a waterfall that crossed the trail during the opening lap of the senior elite women's race.
